The next best option is to use the journey planner from the web site.

Simply put in your current location and where you want to go, the planner will then help you get the best route.

If you decide that using the AT methods of transport will work for you, then you need a HOP card to pay for it.

<https://at.govt.nz/bus-train-ferry/at-hop-card>

As the HOP card requires to set up an account and add money to the HOP card you may find that using contactless payments will work for you

NOTE: If you forget to swipe on or off, then the system still thinks you are travelling and a large fare could be deducted

But as with the HOP card you need to swipe on and swipe off the same as the HOP card, a payment will be taken for the journey and credited to your card.

NOTE: If you forget to swipe on or off, then the system still thinks you are travelling and a large fare could be deducted.
